(Associated Press Cable.)
LONDON, Nov. 1. — Rumors are

No confirmation of the report car be obtained from Spain, but a great deal of uneasiness exists.

There were two meetings of the uterrified last evening, one at .Kaknako and the other on the corner of chool and Libba streets, but at neithr was there marked enthusiasm except perhaps at Kakaako when Baron soap-box fame told his hearers that they were in the "stummick" of the Republican goat and they should get Boss McCandless was present at oth meetings and harped on his assisted immigration, land question and the duplicity of Prince Cupid.

At 8 o'clock the ball was set rolling at both meetings and at Kaknako there were considerably less person present than at the Democratic meet ing there a week ago, 350 persons including women and a large number of children and boys under age being a onservative estimate.

There were children in arms peace-fully sleeping and curied up on the ground in the glare of the torches dozens of boys slept without trouble as the deafening (?) cheers of the multitude failed to wake them from heir slumbers.

It was the regular thing in the or storical line at both meetings, the same old arguments of poor pay and class prejudice being brought before he bearers in one guise or another. Baron of sosp-box fame made his debut at a precinct gathering last light at Kakaako and after stating that it was an honor to speak before such a gathering, he said: "Ladies and gentlemen, rise in your strength and act like men, don't work for ninety cents a day when you can ge a dollar and a half." It was in his remarks that the whole of Kakaako was in the "stummick" of the Repub-lican goat that he received the only heers of the evening.

Link, who says Link is all right and everyone else is all wrong, regaled his hearers in their native tongue with a recital of their wrongs, telling the longshoremen that they worked here loading freight on a San Francisco steamer for $1.50 a day and that same freight was taken out of the MANUFACTURING OPTIGIAN vessel at San Francisco by men paid Fort Street Harrison Block

He said that forty per cent of the land belonged to the government and yet no poor man could get any of it, this in the face of the fact that in the drawings for land at the Capitol during the past week the available lots in any district have not been more than half applied for.

"A new land law is needed which will permit the poor people to get land," said Link, "and if you send me to Washington as Delegate I will get Congress to pass such a law."

He quoted figures from the tax office in regard to the amount due the government from Kuhio, and then went on to a eulogy of himself in which he said he was a working man and had made all his money with his

Following Link the other speakers ook their places in turn upon the costrum and preached the utter des-olation of the country unless all the public offices were filled with Demo-crats by the election of November 8. At the other meeting on Lilihu street there was a smaller crowd than in Kakaako, and the speakers who were at each meeting first changed to the other meeting after their efforts on the stand and thus gave the pop-ulace a chance to hear all the spellbinders of the party in action. None of the speakers made statement that if they could hire lab or for ainety cents a day they would pay a dollar and a half for the same labor of their own free will.
